

The senior design video presentation was extended to the end of this week. We took some advice from Professor Song about our video and re-recorded some of our segments and deleted or changed some slides appropriately. I oversaw making sure to edit all the parts together and keeping the video under 5 mins long, which it came out to be 4 mins 59 seconds. I also did some other editing like increasing the volume of everyone's segments and other minor editing details to make the video better.
