

The senior design video presentation is due this week. This week we are all focusing on finalizing and polishing the slideshow presentation. I also have the job of editing the video with everyone's segments together and submitting everything successfully for the deadline.